

The Document Automation and Production Service (DAPS) provides advice, replication support, and expeditious printing services for all of your locally authorized printing requirements. In addition to local and command printing support, DAPS can provide demand printing for departmental publications that are either out of print or out of stock. Follow local reproduction authority guidance in AR 25-30, paragraphs 3-24 and 7-1. Be sure to consult with your publications control officer for local guidance and authorization before placing an order with DAPS.

Use of DAPS requires an authorized account and approved funding to pay for services provided.

Go to <http://www.daps.dla.mil> to get to the DAPS homepage. Once there, click on "Portfolio of Capabilities" to see a more complete description of DAPS offerings.
