ARMY COMMENDATION MEDAL—Amendment	IX

I—DISTINGUISHED SERVICE MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 9 July 1918, the Distinguished Service Medal for exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service in a position of great responsibility is awarded to:

Major General Henry A. Miley, Jr., , United States Army. November 1964 to August 1966.

II—SILVER STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded posthumously to:

Master Sergeant Kenneth M. Roraback, , (then Sergeant First Class), United States Army, distinguished himself on 24 November 1963, when a large Viet Cong force attacked the Special Forces Camp at Hiep Hoa, Republic of Vietnam. Master Sergeant Roraback, working in the radio room, immediately began to notify higher headquarters of the situation. The heavy volume of high and flat trajectory fire destroyed the generators, damaged the radios, and knocked out a portion of the radio room. Despite this, Master Sergeant Roraback remained at his station and attempted to repair his radio. When it became apparent that the radio was beyond repair, Master Sergeant Roraback destroyed and set fire to the remainder of what was left of the radios, equipment, and radio room to keep the Viet Cong from salvaging anything later. This accomplished, Master Sergeant Roraback maneuvered through hostile fire and mortar fragments, and manned a light machinegun concentrating his fire on the Viet Cong within the compound. Master Sergeant Roraback valiantly remained at his position and covered the withdrawal of friendly forces as long as he could. Reluctantly, he left his position when ordered by his Commanding Officer to withdraw from the camp and moved into the darkness to rejoin his comrades. In the confusion of battle, Master Sergeant Roraback was captured by the Viet Cong only when he no longer had any means to resist and was in captivity until issuance of a presumptive finding of death by Headquarters, Department of the Army, on 1 July 1966. Master Sergeant Roraback's extraordinary heroism in close combat against a numerically superior Viet Cong force was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflects great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

III. LEGION OF MERIT. 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942, and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1955, the Legion of Merit for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

V—SOLDIER'S MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant Rigoberto Mancha, , Infantry, United States Army. On 28 March 1966, at Range 18, Wildflecken, West Germany, Sergeant Rigoberto Mancha, Company "A", Fourth Battalion, Eighteenth United States Infantry, distinguished himself with his display of extraordinary heroism, by saving a fellow soldier from death or extreme bodily harm. While acting in the capacity of a safety noncommissioned officer on a grenade firing range, Sergeant Mancha, without regard for his personal safety, deliberately moved to an activated grenade which has been accidently dropped amidst other personnel by an individual on the throwing line. While issuing instructions to personnel within the danger area, Sergeant Mancha kicked the armed explosive three times directing it into a grenade sump and dove for cover behind a beam just as the grenade exploded. The cool courage and professional foresight demonstrated by Sergeant Mancha were in the highest traditions of military service and deflect great credit upon himself, Berlin Brigade and the United States Army.
