HEADQUARTERS
DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
WASHINGTON, DC, 30 September 1998

CENTER FOR ARMY ANALYSIS (SFW3WCAA)

This confirms that effective 30 September 1998, the United States Army Concepts Analysis Agency was renamed and is now the Center for Army Analysis (CAA). CAA is a Field Operating Agency under the jurisdiction of the Director of the Army Staff, OCSA. The mission of CAA is to analyze Army force-level systems in the context of joint/combined forces. The purpose of these analyses is to help the CSA determine requirements and establish objectives for theater-level joint/combined forces. These analyses examine the operating concepts, characteristics, and performance of the units from which forces are formed. They also establish the context, goals, and objectives for analyzing lower level operating systems.
